FROM: Robert Norton

Date: Fri, 25 Feb 2005 01:27:49 -0500
Comment:

Sirs,

I am a fan of old text and early graphic adventure games. Many of these games were created by companies that no longer exist, or that have lost interest in these games. It is possible to play these games in emulation on modern machines, but it takes time and effort to port them to a form that is playable, and it is possible that doing so could be violating current copyright laws.

Please do what you can to make it so that these great old games can be played legally by those interested in the history of adventure gaming.

Best regards, Bob Norton.